Newsletter for Friends of the Park March 2014

SPRING !!

There so many events popping up at our 46-acre park and civic center! More people are using our campgrounds and we've noticed many are making use of our 1/2-mile walking trail. After so many weeks of cold weather, that is a nice sight.

One of the biggest events lately was the Wild Game Supper. This event is a popular fundraiser for the center's endowment fund and this year's turnout was spectacular. About 1500 people enjoyed the evening of socializing, relating their hunting and fishing stories, and eating on the wild side. Of course, the chefs were busy competing for the bragging rights for best cook in the categories of fur, feather and fin.

And the winners were:

James Bouvier (fin category) for Crab & Corn Bisque

Bryan Cheramie (fur category) for Hog Wings

Cory Arceneaux (feather category) for Duck Fricassee

Best Over-All Winner – Bryan Cheramie for Hog Wings

2014 Outdoor Icon Award recognition went to Magnus Arceneaux, who has cooked all his life when he was not fishing or hunting. This is a champion in the kitchen and over camp fires and has traveled many places to prepare feasts.

Wild Game Supper was a success with 1400 guests in attendance and 300+ volunteers!
